

CENTRO ITALIANO DELLA CULTURA DEL CARBONE Museo del Carbone

The Italian Centre for Coal Mining Culture, which is located in the Great Coal Mine of Serbariu in Carbonia, was opened on 3rd November 2006. The mining site was closed in 1964 and has been restored and modified to become a museum and educational centre. With the development of this project to recover and improve the site, it is now possible to visit the surface area and the buildings that constitute the Coal Mining Museum.

Visiting the Coal Mining Museum

The Lamp Room houses the permanent exhibition on the history of coal, the Serbariu mine and the town of Carbonia. The exhibition includes a precious collection of mining lamps, work tools, everyday objects, photos, documents, short film clips from the period and interviews with the miners.

The Underground Gallery shows how mining methods have changed over the decades from the 1930s until to when the mine closed down. It has accurately reconstructed spaces enriched with work tools and machinery which were used in the past or that are still in use in coal mining.

Winding Engine House - the winding engine was used to move the cages up and down the shaft in order to transport the miners and the wagons.

Visitors can see the gallery and the winding engine on guided tours with a maximum of twenty people at a time.

NB Visitors are advised to dress appropriately for an outdoor industrial site with uneven surface. Comfortable clothing and footwear are essential.

The underground gallery is partially accessible to wheelchair users or visitors with serious disabilities who are welcome to take a shorter underground tour.
